

Informit: discover the largest collection of authoritative articles and books on issues affecting Australia and beyond

Informit is the leading single source of journal articles, periodicals, books and policy papers written by experts and specialists in Australia.

What does Informit offer?

- Access to a diverse range of publications spanning broad subject areas
- Periodicals such as Parity, Ageing Agenda, Metro, Arena, Family Matters, Kill Your Darlings, Quadrant, Meanjin and many more
- A substantial amount of scholarly peer-reviewed content balanced with more general interest material
- Advanced search options for researchers

What subjects are covered?

- Australian and global politics
- Australian literature
- Business and economics
- First Nations
- Health and human development
- Media, art and culture
- Human society
- Mental health and psychology
- Sustainability and the environment
- Technology

Coming in August 2023: Informit for schools and public libraries

Designed to support student research, casual inquiry and classroom activities, Informit's new interface will display our vast catalogue in curated subject and issue categories relevant to Australian schools.

As a customised search experience, this product offers the following benefits:

- Topical entry-points that contextualise Informit's content offerings
- Written blurbs and short-form essays that provide a starting point for novice researchers by summarising subjects and issues in plain English
- Reflection questions and key terms to help spark a student's search and provide teachers with material for classroom activities
- Pre-programmed search results tagged to subjects and issues, designed to narrow results and help novice researchers gain confidence using Informit
- Featured articles curated by our team, all tagged to subject and issues, and graded by reading level
- Colourful, modern design that communicates key information visually and is mobile-friendly
- Save, share and citation capabilities for all articles and issues pages

Why does this matter?

Informit can offer teachers and students great value by connecting them with content that is:

- Aligned with key learning areas and curriculum topics
- Australian-centric
- Peer reviewed and trusted
- Published by the broadest range of societies, research groups and publishers

Informit is committed to fostering diversity in publishing and promoting critical thinking for a more informed and knowledgeable community.

We are an online gateway to the largest collection of Australasian scholarly journals, books, and videos.

Founded in the RMIT University Library in 1989, our customers include all Australian and New Zealand university and state libraries, government, and other specialist libraries.

We have strong relationships with major peak bodies, including Australian Institute of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Studies (AIATSIS), Australian Policy Observatory (APO), Australian Institute of Criminology, Australian Institute of Family Studies and the Australian Council for Educational Research.

Our vision is to be the hub of the publishing, research, education and library communities in Australia and beyond.

Scan the QR code to register your interest